Criterion F: Feedback from client

The feedback was in form of an email, after a meeting showing off the product. Here is the feedback:

Hi Lucas,
Thanks for sharing your basketball data base with me today. It looks very interesting, informative, and easy to use.

There are a few suggestions, however. Perhaps you can come up with a better system other than numbering the games. All of the individual statistics should make sense and not be a confusing number so the person using the data can provide feedback to the individual. It might help to have an image of the person. It would be great if there was easy access to players' career statistics in case a record was about to be broken (such as most career three pointers or career free throws).

In general the information you have selected to use will prove to be useful.

Regards,
Mr Bergeron

I found the the "All of the individual statistics should make sense and not be a confusing number" part confusing therefore ask for an example to get a better picture.

He responded by saying:

If by accident an incorrect number is inputted, and someone is shown to be averaging 75 rebounds per game.
